Inside Housing Magazine recognition for Stockport Homes Chief Executive

Inside Housing Magazines eagerly awaited "who's who in housing" has listed the Chief Executive of Stockport Homes, Helen McHale as a top performer within housing.

The list has been collated from across the UK to show the crucial role that local authorities and housing providers play in the development of much-needed new homes, from strategic leadership through to planning and development.

Helen is praised by colleagues for combining a commercial approach to housing growth with a socially responsible commitment to meeting local needs. She has lobbied for funding to build new homes for market rent and sale.

Chair of the Board, Robin Burman says, "Congratulations to Helen from everyone at Stockport Homes for being recognised nationally for the substantial and appreciated difference she is making, her leadership qualities and vision for the future."
